"HALLS OF ROSEVILLE"

Oh! we love the halls of Roseville High
That surround us here today.
And we will not forget it,
Tho' we be far, far away.

To the halls of Roseville High School
Every voice will bid farewell,
And shimmer off in twilight
Like the old vesper bell.

But, as we sadly start our journeys far apart,
A part of every heart will linger here
In the sacred halls of Roseville High.

Foreword

Follow along the "Tune Time" theme of this Rambler as we take you up and down the musical scale of 1954's activities at Roseville High School.

From the overture to the finale, we hope that this book will strike many a chord which might otherwise be lost among the dirges, discords, harmonies, and symphonies of the years.

Dedication

Mr. Vernon Hartsell

As freshmen we were new. . .and he was new. Our four years began as a gay educational tune with Mr. Hartsell to set the tempo and put us at ease with his friendliness. Through the years he has always been

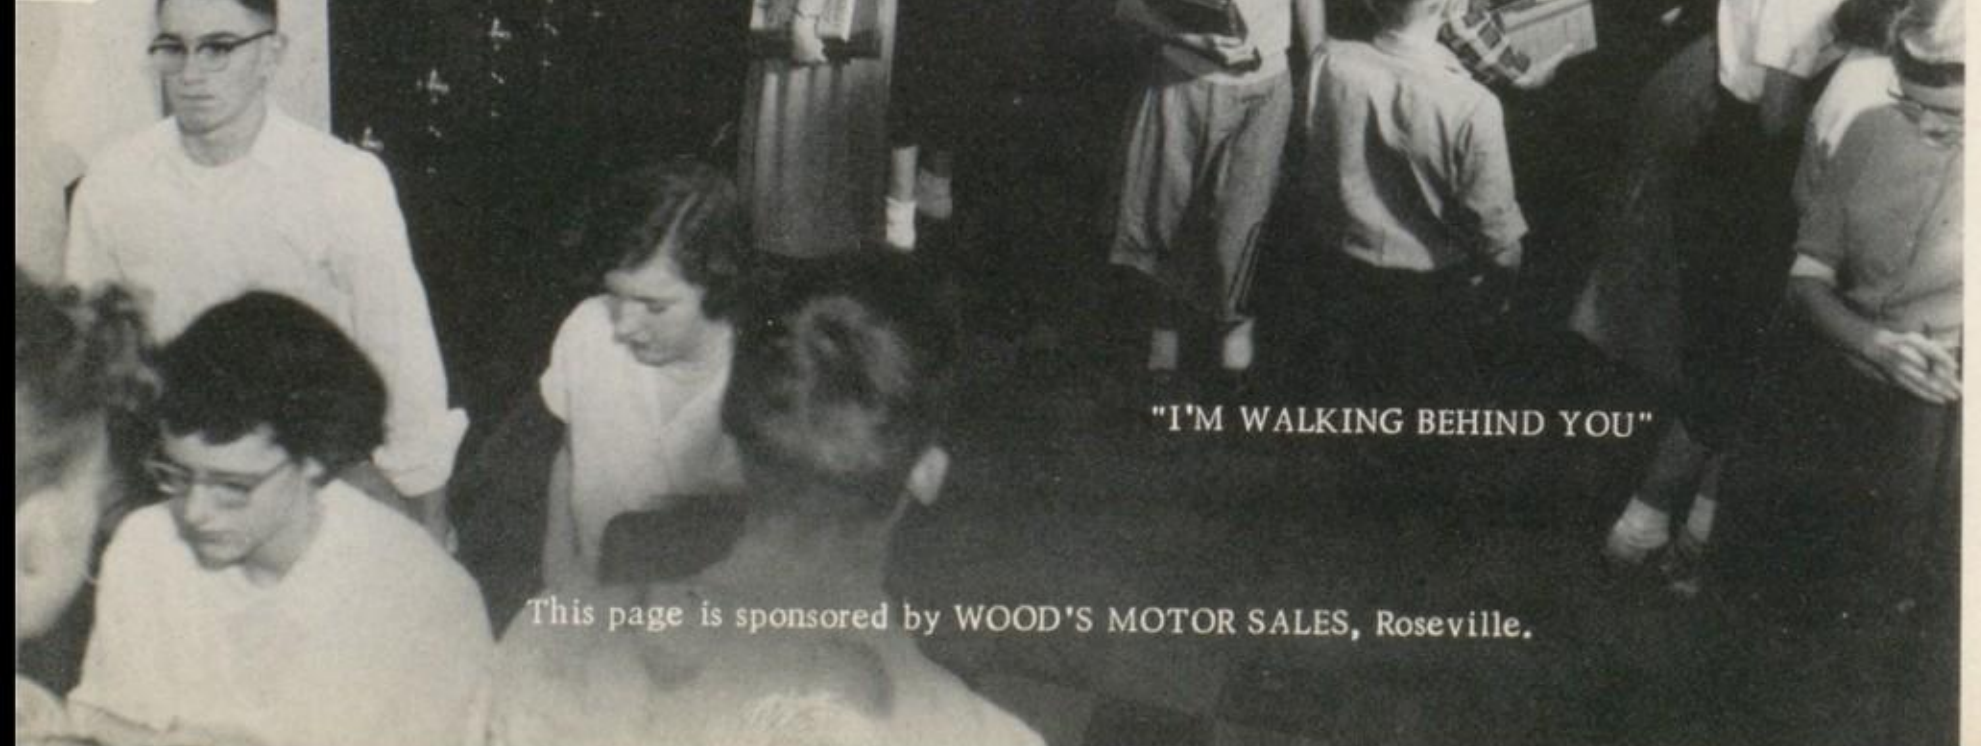

"Tall as a beanpole, skinny as a rail,
He'll talk to you frankly and help without fail."

As an expression of our gratitude and affection, we, the senior class of '54, dedicate this Rambler to our understanding friend, Mr. Hartsell.

"STOUTHEARTED MEN"

On the Board, we have men who are stouthearted men
 Who will fight for the school we adore.
 Give us some men who are stouthearted men
 Who will grant us vacations galore.
 Oh! Shoulder to shoulder and older and older
 They grow as the ones who've gone before.
 But there's nothing in the world can halt or mar their plans
 Our stouthearted men work for us as no other group can.
 On the Board. . . .

"I GET IDEAS"

When they are meeting and it's dangerously near bell time,

They get ideas, they get ideas.

They seem to linger so much longer than they aim to.

They all study, think, and prepare

To solve the problems of the students they must share.

They do many things to make our school better

In hopes that we will get ideas, too.

Class Will

We, the Class of '54, being of sound mind and memory and knowing we are nearing the end, do make this our last will and testament.

To the faculty, we leave the quiet ways of our freshman and sophomore years and hope, for their sakes, that no class outdoes us.

To the junior class, we leave our ability to tear up typewriters. Be careful you might get caught.

To the sophomore class, we leave our childish ways in hopes that you will outgrow yours sooner than we did.

To Mr. Hartzell, we leave our happy times, mischevious ways, and our few serious moments so that we will remain your favorite class.

To Mr. Moon, we leave our ability to copy exercises because it really helps.

To Mr. Schmidt, we leave our ability to make something out of nothing to take up time in history class.

To Mr. Tinker and Mr. Lober, we leave hopes of another class with as many star athletes as our class had.

To Mrs. Martin, we girls return all the E's we got for not taking showers, since we probably exhausted your supply.

To Miss Krauser, we will prescribe a remedy for all the headaches we caused.

To Jean Wilson, we leave the ability of our class treasurers to get her books "all fouled up."

To Mrs. Johnson, we leave all the literature we sat through. "We don't want it, you can have it, it's too much for us."

To Miss Wahl, instead of leaving her something, we want to take with us, her ability to prepare foreign meals.

To Mr. Tomlin, we give our congratulations on successfully taking long vacations.

To Mr. Sells, we can't leave anything because he has it all.

To Miss Noorman, we leave our ability to always stay on pitch--just any pitch.

To Phil and Harry, we leave our clean and tidy ways. Aren't you proud of us?

I, Scott Ault, will my boxing ability and all my "black" eyes to Charles Hunt. Hit them first and then run.

I, Bill Axline, bequeath my old beat-up Mercury to anyone who wants it; maybe I will get a new one for my birthday.

I, Johnny Babcock, leave my collection of Marilyn Monroe pictures to Donnie Ischer. Don't be too disappointed, Red, she may get a divorce.

I, Larry Boulware, leave my basketball technique to Jerry Solomon.

I, Martha Bond, leave my old used cast to anyone who needs a good excuse to get out of typing.

I, Bill Brooks, leave my dislike for girls to Jim Dillard. Don't get hooked.

I, Wendel, "Cowboy", "Windy", "Breeze", "Banjo" Brooks, bequeath my nicknames to Larry Inman.

I, Jack Brown, leave my driving ability to Gary Hayes--ten points for pedestrians, fifty for teachers.
 I, Gene Carlberg, leave my temperamental disposition to Tommy Turner.
 I, Ann Curtis, leave my short cheerleading outfit to Roberta Whiteside,
 I, Betty Freeland, bequeath my strong voice to Frank Kelly. I'm sure Mrs. Johnson will approve.
 I, Elizabeth Gossett, bequeath my rotund physique to Marilyn Leezer.
 I, Bill Jahn, bequeath my secret, "How to have a girl in every port", to John Livingston.
 We, Carole Kowalski and Jolece Becraft, bequeath our ability to shortsheet Mr. Lober's bed to any one who's brave enough to try it. We think he has suffered enough.
 I, Martha Lofftus, bequeath my quiet ways to Susan Comley.
 I, Darliss Lozier, bequeath my successful love life to Jane Corman. You have a good start, keep after him.
 I, Joan McMillan, bequeath my ability to pick a short fellow to Beverly Willis.
 I, Kay Monroe, bequeath my big, brown, flirty eyes to Donna Kay Smith. Don't be choosy--give them all the eye.
 I, Robert Murrell, bequeath my serious moods to Don Pinney.
 I, Carolee Norville, bequeath my pencil to the speech department for future use.
 I, Sarah Raymond, bequeath my ability to get by with things in history class to Mary Hopson. Maybe it will get you an "A", too.
 I, Ronnie Turner, bequeath my good grades to Ronnie Murphy.
 I, Jim Thrush, bequeath my sauntering pace to Miss Krauser and my relaxed posture to Mrs. Johnson.
 I, Rena Kay Robeson, bequeath my ability to "get 'em and forget 'em" to Jo Ella Young.
 I, Larry Robinson, bequeath my good-natured ways to any old "grouch" who needs them.
 I, Mervin Ross, bequeath my interest in Galesburg to Delbert Feldman.
 I, Clifford Schoonover, bequeath my ability to sleep in the study hall to Jim Martin. You will need it when you stay out as late as I do.
 I, Lola Springer, bequeath my small steps to Bonnie Pinney.
 I, Kay Streeter, bequeath my ladylike ways to Donna Robinson. Don't overdo it.
 I, Velma Wilson, bequeath my "slinky" sweaters to Ronnie Farr. I don't think you'll do them justice.
 I, Irvin Sprout, bequeath my short, thick neck to Lee Massingill.

Class Prophecy

This is my story just as I, ELIZABETH GOSSETT, wrote it for my paper, "The Chicago Sun Gossette."

In the fall of 1960, a homecoming for the Roseville graduates of 1954 was held in Chicago at the famous Night Club Rosevilla, which is owned and operated by EUGENE CARLBERG. This spacious establishment was an ideal place for such an important rendezvous.

The entertainment for this homecoming was furnished by such well known performers as: IRVIN SPROUT, SARAH RAYMOND, JOAN McMILLAN, and RENA KAY ROBESON. First to appear in the spotlight was Joan, singing one of her latest recordings. Next came that Crooner Sprout--a second LaRosa. He was followed by a song-and-dance number by Rena Kay. Last, but not least, Sarah with waist-length hair, was in the spotlight doing a lovely ballet. The gowns worn by the performers of the evening were designed by ANN CURTIS, who has her own designing shop in Paris.

Many of the girls were wearing that new hair style, the Becraft Italian Coiffure, made famous by our own JOLECE BECRAFT.

Four of our class members were there from the "Wilson's Wonder Clinic." Dr. VELMA WILSON and her two head nurses, BETTY FREELAND and KAY MONROE, were accompanied by her very efficient secretary, DARLISS LOZIER.

Seated at a table for three, were WENDELL BROOKS, BILL JAHN, and JACK BROWN who are now very wealthy ranchers of the Middle West. Near this trio was located the table of the Dodger players, LARRY BOULWARE, BILL AXLINE, and BILL BROOKS, who have just completed a successful World Series of 1960. Oh, yes--with them was their renowned bat-boy, SCOTT AULT.

On the other side of the room I spied our world champion professional golfer, CAROL KOWALSKI, who was having a cozy tete-a-tete with the man who had broken the world's record with his four-minute mile, JIM THRUSH.

CAROLEE NORVILLE, who has completed another successful season as a television producer, was really spending her millions in Club Rosevilla that night.

The architect and builder of the Club Rosevilla, CLIFFORD SCHOONOVER, was there with his assistant, the famous designer and artist, MARTHA LOFFTUS. You probably will recall that she recently had a showing of her masterpieces in Chicago's Museum of Art.

We learned later that MARTHA BOND, the bandleader at the University of Illinois, was hit by a speeding stock-car. She was only slightly bruised, but the incident gave SARGENT ROSS his big opportunity to investigate speeding stock-cars. After only a week-long search, Ross, familiarly known as "Doc", learned that "WILD KID BAB-COCK" had been taking a short spin that night just to test his car for the races the next day.

Very late in the evening there was much ado when LOLA SPRINGER, who owns the one and only car that goes all over the world, arrived in company with ADMIRAL LARRY ROBINSON, one of the heroes of the sea, Robert Murrell, the greatest diesel mechanic in the United States, and MR. RONNIE TURNER, who has the largest fleet of transport trucks the world has ever known.

One of the outstanding features of the evening was MISS KAY STREETER modeling her new mink evening gown. She looked very lovely in this new creation which flattered her own natural beauty and poise.

As I left the lovely, soothing atmosphere of Club Rosevilla, I suddenly noticed that the efficient cashier was none other than MISS DOROTHY HALL who was quietly attending to her own business as usual.

So, folks, this is my story as I saw it and lived it in the Club Rosevilla on an evening in November of 1960 and as recorded in the "CHICAGO SUN GOSSETTE".

Macomb

Macomb is now a city of 10,312 and extends over 2 3/4 square miles. Its location in the center of a vast farmland area makes it a natural hub of activity, not only as a retail and wholesale center, but also as a gathering-place for men of all professions--lawyers, doctors, dentists, optometrists, etc. The number of fine stores surrounding the center courthouse square is constantly increasing. Macomb has achieved a reputation as a medical center. There are two hospitals, totaling 150 beds. Other institutions established to serve the public interests include 2 banks, a public library, 19 churches, and 3 hotels totaling 190 beds.

Referees

I think that I shall never see
A satisfactory referee;
About whose head a halo shines,
Whose merits rate reporter's lines;
One who calls them as they are
And not as I should wish, by far.
A gent who leans not either way
But lets the boys decide the play;
A guy who'll sting the coach who yaps,
From Siwash Hi or old Millsaps.
Poems are made by fools like me
But only God could referee.
